are extracted from Vegetable products, combining in them the Mandrake or May Apple, which is recognized by physicians as a substitute for calomel, possessing all the virtues of that mineral, without its bad after effects.

As an Anti-Bilious Medicine

They are incomparable. They stimulate TOR-PID LIVER, invigerate the NERVOUS SYS-TEM, and give tone to the DIGESTIVE OR-GANS, creating perfect digestion and thorough sssimilation of food. They exert a powerful influence on the KIDNEYS and LIVER, and through these organs remove all impurities, thus vitalizing the tisques of the body and causing a healthy condition of the system.

AS AN ANTI-MALARIAL REMEDY

They have no equal; and as a result act as a preventive and cure for Bilious, Remittent, Intermittent, Typhoid Fevers, and Fever and Ague. Upon the healthy action of the Stomach depends, almost wholly, the health of the human race.

remedy has ever been discovered that acts so speedily and gently on the digestive organs, giving them tone and vigor to assimilate food. This being accomplished, of course the RERVOUS SYSTEM IS BRACED, THE BRAIN IS NOURISHED, AND THE BODY ROBUST. Being composed of the juices of plants extract-

Meteoric Showers.

The meteoric display of November 13, 1833, was by very far the most remarkable natural phenomenon I have over witnessed. Learning that something of the kind is predicted to take place on the 13th inst., these lines are written for the purpose of calling the attention of your readers to the subject. The former event came unheralded, and took us all by surprise. I was residing at the time in McDonough, Henry county. Suffering at the time from an inflamed eye, and being unable to sleep, I rose about I o'clock on the night in question, and wont out to my kitchen for the purpose of lighting a lamp (lucifer matches had not thou been in vented, or had not at least come into use in that section.) In passing to the kitchen 1 did not happen to look up. But as soon as our cook (old Aunt Mary) opened the door she drow back in alarm, exclaiming, "Lord, mester, the world is coming to an end! Just look at the stars. They are all falling!" My faith in the Scriptures | such as Matthew xxiv., 14, and others of the same import | precluded the idea of its being the end of the world, and I was not alarmed. Returning to my room, I propared my wife for viewing the phenomenou. which she did without undue excitement. 1 then sallied forth to arouse some of my neighbors, that they also might or joy the wonderful display. The two nearest were a lawyer and a preacher, both of whom were terribly alarmed.

their wives. Without going lutther, I had my hands full in endeavoring to restore them to some degree of composure. From one o'clock until daylight I witnessed the grand display. Looking upward, it seemed as if the meteors all started from common contre, and fell in curving lines to the very earth, and there were thousands, if not millions of them in sight at the same moment, and every moment, notil daylight put an end to the scene. It literally rained fire. Some times the shower would slacken for a moment or so, and then it would be renewed, until the very heavens seemed to be ablaze. Some pore brighter same at nalar ware all fire (or seemed to be so), and all were pouring down toward the earth. But I am attempting to do what I promised myself I would not undertake; to describe a scene which no imagication can conceive, nor tongue or pen portray. It was as clear a night as I over saw. I would fix my eyes on a given star, and in a few and, despite my expostulations, greatly alarmed

to the fact that it was obscured by a passing meteor. The illusion was perfect. For two or three days after the occurrence the atmosphere was so smoky as to prevent the stars from being seen at night, and to cause the sun to look like a ball of fire in the day.

moments it would seem to fall, owing, I suppose, time, upon which one might gaze with the naked eye without pain. A few occurrences connected with the event may interest your readers. In Covington, Newton county, at 2 o'cleek, the church bell was rung, and the whole population was aroused, who repaired to the meeting house and spent the remainder of the night in devotional exereises. The gold mines in Paulding and adjacent counties had drawn together many adventurers-miners and gamblers. A gentleman direct from that section informed me that soon after midnight guns were fired, horns blowe, and the sleepers for miles were aroused. The gamblers threw their carls in the fire, coemics made friends, and there was such praying as was never heard in that section before, and per hars has never been heard since. Oaly a few days after the phenomenon I was passing from McDonough to Zabulon, and stopped to spend the night with a friend. had two northero men employed in electing a mill on a small stroam near his residence, the elder one of whom had been a sestaring man. As soon as Larrived the "falling of the stars" became the subject of conversation. Socieg the porthere men ceming up the hill, my friend said: "Engage those men-especially the elder onein conversation on the subject." Supper over, I managed to draw them out. The elder one said: "I have spent most of my life on the sea. and have passed through many dangers. But I never had to look death and eternity so squarely in the face before. You know, parson, that sailors believe in the North star. Well, I saw that the other stars were falling, but I thought that as long as the North star kept its place all was safe. So I went out there and sat on the ground, with my back against the chimney (it was a rock chimney,) and then I watched that star, trying not even to wink. In a few minutes it out loosse, and here it came. And then, parson, I fell on my knees and did some of the tallest paying you over heard, and I have not sworn an oath since." He had been dreadfully profane. I have seen many people since who have waited for the North star to fall before they would pray.
